The Kirkwood Monday Evening Club held the first meeting of the season at the home of Judge and Mrs. W. W. Keyson. This club is the oldest in town, having concluded its twenty-first year last May. Doctor F. Louis Soldan of St. Louis was the speaker of the evening and he read a most interesting and instructive paper on "Robert Burns." He gave an account of his life; told how Burns, like Byron, "awoke one morning to find himself famous," and made so by the publication of a volume of verse intended as his ferewell to Scotland before he emigrated to Jamaica. Doctor Soldan compared Burns to Schiller, both of whom belonged to the peasant classes who, previous to their time, had never done any literary work. He quoted largely from Purns's writings and gave a criticism on them.
